About Us

We're an independent, ethically-minded hair salon in the heart of Leeds. Known for our creative culture and sustainable values, we offer more than just hair services — we're a space for growth, artistry, and community. From personalised hairdressing to in-house education and content creation, our team thrives on collaboration and fresh ideas. We aim to create something meaningful — for our clients, our team members, and our wider audience. We use and retail Davines — a sustainable, high-performance product range — and support all new team members in converting to the colour system as needed.

About the Role

We're looking for a talented Senior Stylist who's ready to bring ideas to life both behind the chair and beyond it — someone who can help drive the creative energy and commercial success of the salon. This hybrid role blends high-level hairdressing with creative collaboration and growth-focused thinking.

You'll lead by example in your craft while also taking ownership of client engagement, filling booking gaps, creating content, and coordinating in-salon projects that keep the brand visible and thriving. From planning social posts and organising mini shoots to spotting white space in the diary and supporting the team, this is a hands-on role with the freedom to make things happen and shape how we grow.
